Women Who Can Spare the Time Will Be Assigned to Hour's Daily Duty

IMPORTANT SESSION THURSDAY

Sectional Conferences on Many Lines of Activity to Be Held in Congregational Church

Mrs. George Bradish, chairman of the committee in charge of the Wisconsin art exhibit to be shown at the Public Library this week, today made an appeal to La Crosse women, not connected with local clubs, who are willing to devote an hour each to the management of the exhibit during convention hours Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Bradish said today that unless local women would lend their aid the exhibit would probably have to be closed during convention hours. "That would mean," said Mrs. Bradish, "that the pictures could not be seen all morning or afternoon, and their exhibition would be limited to a few hours each day."

Mrs. Bradish points out that local club women are anxious to attend all sessions of the convention.

Women who can spare the time are asked to communicate with Mrs. Bradish at her home, 719 Cass street. The women will be assigned to duty one hour each.

The pictures arrived in La Crosse today and will be unpacked and arranged for the exhibit tomorrow. The exhibit will open Wednesday morning.

Mrs. W. R. Finch, speaking for the entertainment committee of the local clubs, announced today that over 300 women will be in attendance at the convention.

Many Not Provided For "Although we have had generous response to the request for lodgings for the women," said Mrs. Finch, "there are many yet to be cared for. The women need only lodgings and breakfast."

Any who can aid the local clubs in this respect is asked to notify Mrs. Frank E. Davis, or Mrs. E. G. Perkins.

One of the most interesting sessions of the convention of the Wisconsin Club Federation will be held on Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock, at the Congregational church.

Prominent women, chairmen of various committees of the federation, will lead discussions in conferences on art, civics, home economics, music, press, public health, drama, social and industrial conditions, country life and rural club extension, conservation, education, legislative and history and landmarks.

Brief papers will be read by the chairmen and others will comment upon the various subjects.

To Lead Music Section Mrs. Elizabeth B. Bintliff, Ripon, an officer of the Wisconsin Music teachers' association and chairman of the federation music committee, will have charge of the discussion of music. Mrs. Bintliff was one of the leaders at the recent music teachers' convention held at the La Crosse State Normal school.

The discussion in social and industrial conditions will be led by Mrs. Rosette Lines of Milwaukee, chairman of the state committee.

Mrs. Lines has pursued several investigations in factory and big department store employees' conditions and is well versed on her subject.

To Talk on History Mrs. E. H. Van Ostrand, Madison, chairman of the History and Landmarks committee, will speak on that subject during the conference. Mrs. Lines has made Wisconsin history and landmarks a study for a long time. Others interested in the subject will join the discussion.

Mrs. Edward Vekind, South Kaukauna, chairman of the Drama committee, will tell of the work in her department of the federation.

For Rural Clubs "Country Life and Rural Club Extension" will be discussed by Mrs. Anna R. Merrideth, Eden, Wis., chairman of the committee by that name. Mrs. Merrideth has been active in giving aid to rural women's clubs and is versed in the needs of the small organization.

Chairmen of other committees follow: Mrs. R. J. Wenker, Milwaukee, art committee; Mrs. E. L. Maloney, Fond du Lac, civics; Mrs. A. H. Shoemaker, Eau Claire, press committee;

RUSSIAN WAR MINISTER MUST STAND TRIAL FOR SHORTAGE OF AMMUNITION

General Soukhomlinoff.

The lack of ammunition which the Russians say was the cause of their repeated defeats has been put up to General Soukhomlinoff who, until his recent removal, was the Russian war minister. For his alleged neglect of duty in permitting the Russian forces to run short of ammunition, he is to be tried by a superior court appointed by the czar himself.

NORTH HIGH PLAN MAY BE TAKEN UP AT SPECIAL MEET

Mayor Will Call Committee of the Whole Into Session This Week if Within His Power

Whether a meeting of the common council in committee of the whole for the discussion of the north side high school proposal will be held this week depends upon an opinion which has been asked by Mayor A. A. Bentley from City Attorney J. E. Higbee. If it is within the mayor's power to call the meeting, he will do so, he said today, but he is not sure that calling a meeting of the committee of the whole is not the province of the president of the council.

Alderman B. C. Smith, president of the council, said today that he had no intention of calling the meeting this week before the regular council meeting Friday night. He explained that it was considered useless to take up the north side high school matter until after the annual budget has been laid before the council. The budget is to be presented by City Comptroller William J. Fries at Friday's meeting. The school meeting will probably be called next week, Mr. Smith said today.

Protagonists of the north side high school, led by Alderman R. K. Kempster, have been attempting to get a recommendation on the proposal before the council at the Friday meeting. At a recent meeting of the finance committee and other councilmen the school plans were discussed, but the committee referred the matter back to the entire council for recommendation.

HUERTA NOT TO GO FREE WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The request of Cardinal Gibbons that ex-President Huerta of Mexico, be released by the United States will not be granted.

Justice department officials said today that evidence in their hands of Huerta's activities were such that they consider it highly important to keep him in custody until a government is established in Mexico. He will remain in an army camp on the border, it was said.

CARRANZISTAS GET RIFLES LAREDO, Texas, Oct. 4.—A shipment of 1,230 rifles, consigned to the Carranzista commander at Monterey, arrived today and will be turned over to the Carranzista consul here for transfer to the other side of the river. More rifles are expected shortly together with a large quantity of ammunition.

It was estimated that more than 50,000 of the 65,000 voters of Hennepin county would cast their votes before the polls close at 9 p. m. Following one of the most bitter fights probably ever waged over a local option campaign, the voters were quiet.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 4.—Although the vote in the county option election here today was light this morning, indications were that it would be increased during the afternoon, and that sixty thousand votes would be cast. Dried at noon had arrested six men for alleged illegal voting, but had been unable to make all the charges stick.

When voters of Minneapolis approached the polls today to decide whether or not Hennepin county would contain Minneapolis as the largest dry city in the world, they were not only deciding that issue, but whether or not state-wide prohibition shall become an issue at the next session of the Minnesota legislature.

RUNAWAY BREAKS NECK WHEN TEAM HITS WIRE POST

Valuable Horse Belonging to Nic Kaiser Killed in Frightened Dash This Morning

A valuable bay horse, one of a team belonging to Nic Kaiser, 1303 Main street, proprietor of the Majestic buffet, was instantly killed this morning when he crashed into a telephone post at the mouth of an alley between Sixth and Seventh streets on King street. The team was hitched close to the main street entrance to the alley. The two horses became frightened at an automobile delivery car that backed close to them, and broke away. The horse not injured kicked himself loose from the body of his mate and the buggy, after the collision with the post, and dashed out King street. He was caught on the upper end of Market street. The other horse's neck was broken.

ARRESTED AGAIN WHEN HE TRIES TO PROCURE "DOPE"

Harry Robinson Pays Fine for Euler Theft in Morning and Is Picked Up Again Same Day

TRIES TO WORK SAME RUSE

Identical Game Which Led to Theft of Heroin at Euler's Tried at Hoeschler's

Released Saturday morning after the payment of a $10 fine for the theft of a bottle of heroin from Charles Euler's pharmacy, Harry Robinson, Minneapolis, was arrested by the police again at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon for attempting to work the identical ruse which deceived Euler upon Hoeschler's South Fourth Street Pharmacy. With three other men, fair hangers-on who were in his company, he was ordered out of town yesterday morning after having been locked up in the police station over night.

Supply Taken From Them A supply of drugs which Robinson and his comrade Wilson had when they were arrested Friday night for the Euler theft was appropriated by the police. Without a supply of "dope," it is believed, the urge of the habit drove them to the attempt upon the Hoeschler drug store.

At the Hoeschler store Robinson purchased adhesive plaster and stepped behind the prescription counter to apply it. His companion began pricing safety razors to attract the attention of the clerk, Robinson, in the meantime, was seen by William Hoeschler, hastily to examine the prescription shelves. The store's supply of drugs is not kept there and he took nothing.

Clerks Follow Exit Clerks trailed the pair when they left the store. They were joined by two others and went into the Runkel drug store on South Fifth street. The Runkels had been warned by Hoeschler, however, and refused them service. In the meantime the police had been notified and the pair was arrested shortly after leaving Runkel's.

COTTON CROP FALLS OFF 8.4 PER CENT FOR SEPTEMBER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Cold weather, excessive rainfall and drought are responsible for unusual deterioration in the cotton crop of 1915, according to a statement of the agricultural department today. The crop declined 8.4 points during the month ending September 25, the statement said, and the United States is expected to have the smallest cotton crop since 1909. It will be approximately five million bales under last year's production.

SOFIA TOLD THAT BREAK WILL OCCUR IF RELATIONS WITH THE AUSTRO-GERMANS ARE NOT BROKEN

BREAK IS AVOIDED BY GERMAN NOTE IN ARABIC CASE

Belief Is Assurances in Note Will Lead to Satisfactory Settlement of the Matter

BERLIN ADMITS AN ERROR?

Assumption Taken That Germany Wishes to Arbitrate to Extent of Her Liability

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Danger of an immediate break between the United States and Germany over the torpedoing of the Arabic, with a loss of two American lives has been averted by the assurances contained in a note received personally here on Saturday by Secretary Lansing from Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador.

The German ambassador was optimistic and believed the new note would completely save the situation. Mr. Lansing expressed no opinion, preferring to consult President Wilson in Washington today, but it was evident that he did not share the ambassador's optimism, though inclined to regard the new note as offering for the present a negotiable basis.

As much as the American government made it clear to Count von Bernstorff informally that disavowal of the sinking of the Arabic was absolutely necessary before there could be any further negotiations or arbitration of the amount of indemnity, the general inference was that the Berlin foreign office had taken the view that the German submarine commander must have erred in assuming that the Arabic was intentionally hostile while going to the rescue of the British steamer Dunsley.

It was pointed out as significant in German quarters that when the German government sent its first note on the Arabic, offering to arbitrate the questions of fact in the case, the evidence collected by the American government was not before it. Since that time the data carefully obtained by the United States and held to be absolutely conclusive that the Arabic was not attempting to ram the German submarine, has been placed before the Berlin foreign office.

The prevalent view was that Germany had admitted the error of her submarine commander, but wished to arbitrate the extent to which Germany was liable under the circumstances for a mistake.

Note Not Conclusive

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The note submitted by Ambassador von Bernstorff to Secretary of State Lansing in New York is "satisfactory so far as it goes," but makes necessary still further negotiations, it was learned upon Secretary Lansing's return to work today.

Just where the German note falls to come up to the demand of President Wilson is not disclosed but Ambassador von Bernstorff will be asked to come to Washington in the next few days and go over the matter in detail with Secretary Lansing. It probably will not be necessary for the ambassador to see President Wilson.

The German note is described as being merely not specific enough. The note is felt to be satisfactory up to a certain point and, it is the belief that Germany has admitted that the submarine commander erred in assuming that the Arabic was intent on a hostile act.

The would amount practically to a disavowal of the sinking. The latest note from Germany is not expected to be released for publication before the early part of next week.

GIRL OBJECT OF FIGHT

RACINE, Wis., Oct. 4.—Eight foreigners fought with knives and slingshots over the favor of one girl, at a beer garden Sunday evening, and several of them were cut and bruised. The entire gang was rounded up by the police during the night and each was fined $5 and costs today.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 4.—John Smith, 22, is near death today and his companion, Stanley Drowski, is badly injured as a result of their automobile turning two complete somersaults into a ditch on the Janesville road late yesterday.

Is Mackensen To Lead The Teutons Through Balkans?

BUCHAREST, Oct. 4.—Field Marshal von Mackensen, with 250,000 troops withdrawn from the Russian front, has arrived at the Serbian frontier and will direct the Austro-German march on Constantinople, according to the newspaper Spocha. The Austro-Germans have about 2,000 guns of all calibres, the newspaper reported. General Mackensen is said to have established headquarters at Versecz.

The above report is not confirmed from any other source. It is a fact, however, that the Austro-German center, commanded by Mackensen, has made no progress against the Russians for about ten days, though the Russians were not presumed to be in large force east of Pinsk. Dispatches from Swiss sources hinted that the troops for the Balkan campaign were being withdrawn from Mackensen's army.

FRENCH GAIN NORTH OF ARRAS BUT NOT IN THE CHAMPAGNE

Attacks on Vimy Heights Continue with Progress Made Says War Office

ARRAS - LENS ROAD NEARED

French Troops Are Reported to Have Broken Through German Trenches

PARIS, Oct. 4.—The French continue to make progress north of Arras, this afternoon's official communique declared.

The war office made no claim to important successes in the Champagne region, but asserted that all German attacks on that front had been repulsed.

"We have made further progress in the Givency Woods," (west of Vimy), said the official statement. "Our troops have occupied an important cross-roads on Hill No. 119.

"In the region of Queenvillers and Noyron, the battle from trench to trench continued yesterday and last night.

"Near the Navarin Farm (Champagne region) there was a heavy bombardment by both sides. All the enemy's attacks against our newly won positions north of Mesnil were repulsed.

"A French air fleet dropped forty large bombs on the Sablon railway station at Metz."

The French are pressing home their attacks against the Vimy Heights and are approaching the Arras-Lens highway southeast of Givency. It is claimed that certain portions of the front, French troops are said to have broken through the last line of enemy's trenches and, though afterward repulsed, to have taken large quantities of munitions and some prisoners.

Weather Hinders Artillery The weather has hindered artillery operations in the last thirty-six hours, but has had little effect on the terrible hand to hand fighting going on in the Artois. Throughout yesterday the Germans directed massed attacks against the new French positions in the Givency woods, rushing forward with showers of hand grenades.

Another great artillery battle is developing in the Champagne region. The last official dispatches reported an almost entire cessation of infantry fighting while French and German guns played explosive and shrapnel shells along a ten mile front.

Berlin Admits Gains BERLIN, via London, Oct. 4.—French troops yesterday obtained a firm footing on a German trench on one of the hills northwest of Bivenchy, the German war office admitted this afternoon. The official statement, however, reported the repulse of all other allied attacks and German gains against the British line north of Loos and against the French west of Vimy.

"Germans bombarded Chalons where the French rear guard was assembling, with visible results," the official statement said.

"Yesterday morning five enemy monitors bombarded Zeebrugge," the

PETROGRAD WANTS TEUTON OFFICERS SENT FROM COUNTRY

Declaration of War Expected to Follow Looked-for Ignoring of Ultimatum by Bulgars

ALLIES EXPECT AID FROM GREECE

Fifty Thousand Bulgarians Mass on Serbian Frontier Prepared to Invade Country

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Russia has served final notice on Bulgaria. Petrograd has called on Sofia, saying that a break will occur unless Bulgaria severs relations with the Teutonic allies and all German army officers are sent out of the country. If the ultimatum is ignored—and it is believed that it will be—Russia is expected to declare war on Bulgaria tomorrow, bringing the thirteenth European power into the great conflict.

Greece's entry on the side of the allies is expected as a matter of course, though the Greek war declaration may be delayed for several days. Mobilization of the Greek armies has not been completed, and there is no need for great haste at Athens.

The time limit set by Russia in her ultimatum yesterday to Bulgaria expired at 2 o'clock this afternoon, London time. At that hour Czar Ferdinand's intentions were not known in London. It is possible that the ultimatum expired without an answer and that the Russian minister and his staff have left the Bulgarian capital.

Petrograd dispatches earlier in the day asserted that Russia would accept nothing but a complete back-down by Bulgaria. The Russian minister, it was stated, had been instructed to leave unless Bulgaria pledged herself to sever her relations with the central powers.

Russia still hopes that war may be averted, even following withdrawal of her minister. This hope is based on the possibility that the Bulgarian cabinet may change its policy when it realizes the Allies mean war.

If hostilities come, the Slave may strike first though Bulgarian troops are within a few hours' march of the Serbian border. The Russian war fleet, which has been raiding Turkish shipping, was today reported off the Bulgarian port of Varna.

Roumania's course is still in doubt. Berlin dispatches today claimed that Roumania will remain neutral, but there was no confirmation in the dispatches from Bucharest.

Fighting May Start This Week

Hostilities may begin in the Balkans this week. Fifty thousand Bulgarian troops already have arrived at the Serbian frontier ready for the first blow. Bulgaria's mobilization is practically completed. Athens dispatches today said that one-fifth of the Bulgarian strength is to be thrown against Serbia and two-fifths against Greece. Czar Ferdinand apparently is confident of Roumanian neutrality and has but a few troops stationed along the Roumanian frontier.

One Athens dispatch today declared it was reported from Vienna that the Austro-German attack on Serbia is to begin today or tomorrow. Bulgaria entering the war a few hours later.

Paris and London Approve The Russian ultimatum is approved both here and in Paris. A portion of the London press has demanded for several days that the Allies force Bulgaria's hand before she had completed her mobilization, by issuing an ultimatum. The Bulgarian czar having failed to reply to a friendly note, inquiring about his intentions.

An eleventh hour change of policy on the part of Bulgaria is believed almost too remote a possibility to be considered. It is thought likely that Czar Ferdinand may make an effort to prolong the negotiations with Russia until he completes his military measures. It is understood here that Russia will accept any attempt at delay as cause for an immediate declaration of war, to be followed by similar declarations from all the Allies.

Anglo-French Troops Land ATHENS, Oct. 4.—The government permitted it to be known today that Anglo-French troops have landed near Salonica to assist Greece in repelling any attack by Bulgaria.

MAY NOLLE PROHIBITION

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 4.—Threatened with a fight over the new prohibition law which goes into effect on January 1, 1916, the Anti-Saloon league of Colorado opened a memorable convention here today. Denver, under a home rule statute, threatens to nolle the state-wide dry law. The call for today's meeting stated that the purpose was the "formulating of action to checkmate any move the liquor forces may make." Legal action is presumed.

LEPER SPIRITED AWAY

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 4.—Mystery today surrounded the exact whereabouts of Elmer R. Grabel, the leper who stole into Pittsburgh August 2 from Washington, D. C., where he escaped from the authorities. Dr. J. F. Edwards of the bureau of health, admitted today that Grabel had been removed from his tent on the grounds of the Municipal hospital by health authorities and taken in an automobile to a point 200 miles east of Pittsburgh.

WILSON TO ENDORSE SUFFRAGE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—As a forecast, perhaps, of what President Wilson will do, Secretary Tumulty announced today his own intention of voting for women suffrage in New Jersey Oct. 19. President Wilson has promised to make known his intention in the matter before that date.

Each Child Blew Out a Candle and Made a Wish.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Little Boy Who Had a Birthday Party.

"Do you know anybody who would like a birthday story?" asked daddy when Jack and Evelyn stood waiting.

"We would!" cried both children.

"There was a small boy by the name of George who was going to be seven years old."

"So old?" interrupted Evelyn.

"So his mother thought he ought to have a birthday party. It was to be a surprise, so for the week before she sent him to visit his grandmother while she made party lists, a birthday cake, gifts for the little guests and all the nice things that always go with a birthday."

"Did she have candles?" asked Jack.

"There were seven candles and one to grow on," daddy answered. "So this meant eight children in all. George's mother sent letters to seven of his best friends, three boys and four girls. She ordered ice cream, cake, lemonade and candy. Then when the table was all ready and the guests almost on the point of coming George's grandmother brought him home all dressed in his best clothes, so that he was just in time to welcome his friends."

"Did they play games?" the kiddies wanted to know.

"Yes, indeed! They played London bridge and here grows a wild rose and the mufin man. Then George's mother hid a present in the garden, and the first child to find it was to have it. Then the children had played so hard that they were very hungry, and so after they had danced to a lovely burly-gurd on the lawn it was time to go up on the porch and cut the birthday cake."

"It took quite a time for each little boy to find the little girl he was to sit beside. But there were long blue ribbons tied to some favors on a table, and finally the children at each end of the ribbon had to meet each other. The George sat down at the head of the table, and all his small friends walked past him and gave him a present. All except one! One boy blushed very red, explaining that he had forgotten to bring his present.

"When all the children were at last seated, and oh, so hungry, George's mother told them that before she cut the cake each child might make a wish and blow out a candle. Everybody wished, and when it came George's turn what do you think he said?"

"The children had to give it up."

"I wish Philip had not forgotten to bring my present," said George.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

BETTY'S SUCCESS

BY LOUISE OLIVER

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

Betty looked up from her newspaper and frowned out of the window. The jerking of the car was bad enough, without the distracting conversation of two men in the seat ahead.

Her frown deepened as she heard one say:

"I'm tired of the whole business. No more female stenographers in my office! Not that they are not competent—the last one was a dandy—but they demoralize the whole office force because they are attractive. The time is coming when people won't say 'as pretty as a picture' or 'she looks like an actress.' There will be a new symbol of beauty. It will be, disgustedly, 'she is as beautiful as a stenographer.'"

His companion laughed. "Your fair employees certainly have not demoralized you, you flint-hearted old bachelor! What's the matter with the bookkeeper taking Mabel out to lunch or the chief clerk exhibiting two pink tickets for the show when he passes her desk?"

"The lunches you speak of take nearer two hours than one and the pink theater tickets and a supper after mean a half hour late the next morning. If I could land an ugly one it would be different, but they don't grow. I'm blessed if I ever saw a stenographer who didn't look like a frontispiece in a dollar-and-a-half novel. I'm going to get rid of the current ones and advertise in the morning for a man."

Betty had become thoughtful. She had just finished a course in the art of shorthand and typewriting and it was up to her to get work. Mab was painting and Lillian was teaching, but it was now necessary for Betty, as the family called her, to contribute to the general exchequer. But if today was a sample, positions were not growing along the curb-stones waiting to be plucked, and now she was doubly discouraged.

When the car stopped at her corner she flew home to talk things over with the girls, and their indignation over her recent experience was very soothing.

The next morning Mr. Albert Trowbridge was scarcely seated at his desk when the boy announced with a grin that a lady wished to see him. Mr. Trowbridge frowned, but gave a grudging consent. "Show her in."

A person soon appeared in the doorway who caused that gentleman to gasp. But, suddenly remembering his manners, he sprang to his feet.

"Good morning Miss—"

"Heck," she supplied curtly.

He surveyed the round, shiny face and steel spectacles, a decade old, that perched on top of a coiffure so flat that it looked like paint and the doorknob knot twisted so tight it pulled her eyes astringent.

"Sit down, Miss Heck, please." The lady deposited herself with a flop upon the chair indicated and tucked uneasily at the short coat sleeves that left a hiatus between cuff and glove. She looked up half defiantly at the gentleman, who seemed to be having trouble with his breathing.

"I heard that you wanted a stenographer, and thought maybe I would do. I'm one."

Mr. Trowbridge opened his mouth to say something, but it closed without producing a sound.

"I'm one," repeated the lady.

"Indeed? You'll find my business—like, quick and competent. And fixing him with an owl look over her glasses, she added: "Besides, I don't bother about men, nor they me. You will save time, and time's money these days."

"You are quite right," he agreed politely. "Time is money."

A whimsical look came into his face, which slowly broadened into a grin as he thoughtfully tapped his pencil against his desk.

"I believe I'll try you, Miss Heck!" he exclaimed suddenly. "I have had a great deal of trouble with—with undesirable young ladies and I believe you are just what I am looking for."

As she took her place at the typewriter in the outer office, a painful hush fell over the room. The chief clerk, whose duty it was to initiate new stenographers, had a wary face behind his hand, and the young lady caught something about "souring cream."

Miss Heck proved to be all she claimed for herself. She was businesslike, quiet and quick. The best of all was the time gained by the inattention of the office men. Mr. Trowbridge himself, at the end of a week, confided his joy to his companion of the car. "I've found a perfect lemon of a stenographer. She is so ugly she is fascinating. I dictate twice as many letters as I used to just to convince myself of my luck."

One day Miss Heck was away. She sent word that she was ill, which worried Mr. Trowbridge very much. Poor thing! They had worked her to death, and to pay up for it he would hire one of the "frontispiece kind," and it would be the same thing all over again. In the meantime, it would pay to be kind to the lady. He hunted up her address and took down the receiver to order flowers. Then he hung up. He would take them himself on his way home.

The middle house in a suburban row bore the number he was hunting for. The bell was answered by a pretty girl, who turned a fairest red the instant she opened the door and saw the caller. The visitor was mystified. Where had he seen her before? Something about her was very familiar indeed! Recovering himself, he handed in the box with a polite inquiry for Miss Heck's health. Learning that she was improving and hoped to be at work in a few days, he departed—not without a backward glance as he left.

Monday did not return Miss Heck to her duties, which afforded Albert Trowbridge another opportunity for inquiry at the house and a possible chance of seeing the same girl again.

He was gratified when the young lady of Saturday answered the bell. This time she demurely asked him in. Sister was better and would wish to see him and thank him for the flowers. Would he please be seated and allow her to take his hat?

He did not hear the giggling and fussing in Mab's studio, where wayward curls were being brushed flat and pulled back into a hard knot and a horrid lotion was putting a glaze on a rose and velvet complexion.

Putting in his time looking at photographs and family groups, he discovered something. A queer look came into his face, which, had he been playing auction, any of his friends would have known indicated a certainty on his part of holding most of the odd tricks.

Miss Heck came in—the ugly Miss Heck. She shook hands in a businesslike manner and sat down.

The rest of what happened was such a surprise to her, as Betty told the girls afterward, she couldn't remember distinctly. But it was something like this:

"I'm glad you are better, Miss Heck. I came to talk business."

"Yes?"

"When you came to me you recommended yourself as a time saver. I believe in the same thing and I have a proposition to make to you right now."

"Very good, Mr. Trowbridge."

"Well, Betty, if you will just run up stairs and take off all that darn foolishness and let down those pretty curls, rub off that grease and smash those spectacles, I'm going to ask you to marry me. But, on second thought, I don't believe I'll wait for that."

And Betty never would tell the rest of it.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation, and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."

Mrs. JOSIE HAM, R. F. D. 1, Box 22, Shamrock, Missouri.

KAZAN

By James Oliver Curwood

Kazan's alert eyes saw Pierre start suddenly. He rose from his seat on the sledge and went to the tent. He drew back the flap and thrust in his head and shoulders.

"Asleep, Joan?" he asked.

"Almost father. Won't you please come—soon?"

"After I smoke," he said. "Are you comfortable?"

"Yes. I'm so tired—and sleepy—"

Pierre laughed softly. In the darkness he was gripping at his throat.

"We're almost home, Joan. That is our river out there—the Little Beaver. If I should run away and leave you tonight you could follow it right to our cabin. It's only forty miles. Do you hear?"

"Yes—I know."

"Forty miles—straight down the river. You couldn't lose yourself, Joan. Only you'd have to be careful of air-holes in the ice?"

"Won't you come to bed, father? You're tired—and almost sick."

"Yes—after I smoke," he repeated. "Joan, will you keep reminding me tomorrow of the air-holes? I might forget. You can always tell them, for the snow and the crust over them are whiter than that on the rest of the ice, and like a sponge. Will you remember—the air-holes—"

"Yes—s-s—"

Pierre dropped the tent-flap and returned to the fire. He staggered as he walked.

"Good night, boy," he said. "Guess I'd better go in with the kids. Two days more—forty miles—two days."

Kazan watched him as he entered the tent. He laid his weight against the end of his chain until the collar shut off his wind. His legs and back twitched. In that tent where Radisson had gone were Joan and the baby. He knew that Pierre would not hurt them, but he knew also that with Pierre Radisson something terrible and impending was hovering very near to them. He wanted the man outside—by the fire—where he could lie still, and watch him.

In the tent there was silence. Nearer to him than before came Gray Wolf's cry. Each night she was calling earlier and coming closer to the camp. He wanted her very near to him tonight, but he did not even whine in response. He dared not break that strange silence in the tent. He lay still for a long time, tired and lame from the day's journey, but sleepless. The fire burned over; the wind in the tree-tops died away; and the thick gray clouds rolled like a massive curtain from under the skies. The stars began to glow white and metallic, and from far in the North there came faintly a crisp moaning sound, like steel on steel.

Gray Wolf's cry came over the frosty sleigh-runners running over the snow—the mysterious monotone of the Northern Lights, after that it grew steadily and swiftly colder.

Tonight Gray Wolf did not compass herself by the direction of the wind. She followed like a sneaking shadow over the trail Pierre Radisson had made, and when Kazan heard her again, long after midnight, he lay with his head erect, and his body rigid, save for a curious twitching of his muscles. There was a new note in Gray Wolf's voice, a wailing note in which there was more than the material. It was The Message. And at the sound of it Kazan rose from out of his silence and his fear, and with his head turned straight up to the sky he howled as the wild dogs of the North howl before the tepees of masters who are newly dead.

Pierre Radisson was dead.

CHAPTER VII.

Out of the Blizzard.

It was dawn when the baby snuggled close to Joan's warm breast and awakened her with its cry of hunger. She opened her eyes, brushed back the thick hair from her face, and could see where the shadowy form of her father was lying at the other side of the tent. He was very quiet, and she was pleased that he was still sleeping. She knew that the day before he had been very near to exhaustion, and so for half an hour longer she lay quiet, cooing softly to the baby Joan. Then she arose cautiously, tucked the baby in the warm blankets and went outside.

By this time it was broad day, and she breathed a sigh of relief when she saw that the storm had passed. It was bitterly cold. It seemed to her that she had never known it to be so cold in all her life. The fire was completely out. Kazan was huddled in a round ball, his nose tucked under his body. He raised his head, shivering, as Joan came out. With her heavy moccasined foot Joan scattered the ashes and charred sticks where the fire had been. There was not a spark left. In returning to the tent she stopped for a moment beside Kazan, and patted his shaggy head.

"Poor Wolf!" she said. "I wish I had given you one of the bearskins!" She threw back the tent-flap and entered. For the first time she saw her father's face in the light—and outside, Kazan heard the terrible moaning cry that broke from her lips. No one could have looked at Pierre Radisson's face once—and not have understood.

After that one agonizing cry, Joan flung herself upon her father's breast, sobbing so softly that even Kazan's sharp ears heard no sound. She remained there in her grief until every vital energy of womanhood and motherhood in her girlish body was roused to action by the wailing cry of baby Joan. Then she sprang to her feet and ran out through the tent opening. Kazan tugged at the end of his chain to meet her, but she saw nothing of him now. The terror of the wilderness is greater than that of death, and in an instant it had fallen upon Joan. It was not because

MAUSTON MAN WELL KNOWN IN TOMAH SUCCUMBS FRIDAY

TOMAH, Wis., October 4.—(Special.)—John Sherwood, father of Dr. H. H. Sherwood and Mrs. R. W. Babb, former residents of Tomah, died at his home Mauston Friday at the age of 93 years. Although Mr. Sherwood was never a resident of Tomah, he was well known here, having visited the city often when his son and daughter were here. The funeral was held at Mauston yesterday and was attended by Mrs. Clara Quigg of this city.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

A SERMON ON SIMPLICITY

If Midas is captain of your soul—stop, look, and listen: Midas, it often happens, slips in when one is least suspicious and gains the battle without striking a blow. That "sick giant," Thomas Carlyle, got ahead of the chief of the Ichalkarangi (though not of the Upanishads) in preaching this sermon on simplicity:

Many men eat fine cookery, drink dearer liquors—with what advantage they can report, and their doctors can; but in the heart of them, if we go out of the dyspeptic stomach, what increase of blessedness is there? Are they better, beautiful, stronger, braver? Are they even what they call "happier"? Do they look with satisfaction on more things and human faces in this God's earth; do more things and human faces look with satisfaction on them?

An ancient truth; but for every young man forming his ideals and ambitions, every slightly older young man beginning to attain a vision of "success"—for every woman interested, as mother or wife or sweetheart, in his progress, the ancient truth must never grow dusty or dim. For each of us there is somewhere a road's end; and what shall we find there? Even if we are, frankly, pilgrims of happiness, let us recall that happiness is invariably denied to those who greedily clutch for it; the blue bird is easily frightened, and was never long caged. This is a world for children and for those whose spirit is as that of a little child. The true satisfactions of life are simple: they are given by God in sound sleep and the dawning of a new day; in the warmth of sunlight and resilience of an earthy path through the woods; in the bodily fatigue that follows physical toil manfully done or other work accomplished according to our powers; in lightning some other toiler's too heavy burden; in the love of man and woman and child—yes, and of the brute creation. The multiplication of "things"—creature comforts, rich foods, potent drafts, all that money can buy—are mere substitutes for true satisfaction. He is a happy man for whom the world is still full of freshness and wonder; whose needs are commonplace, not numerous; who has given few hostages to fortune; whose present is laying no dead hand, no "mortgage," on the future. It is one of the unrealities of our city life that those things which cost men most are the things which yield the smallest return in real satisfaction—that men's dearest purchases are made, not because they make them happy, but because of the impression they make or may presumably make upon some one else for whom they have no love. Social life is at best a compromise; but let us sturdily refuse to compromise our joy in living simply—for to live simply is the only way ever discovered by which we may live well.—Collier's Weekly.

REFORMING AMERICA

How social effort in a highly individualistic democracy can make itself coherent is one of our chief problems in America. Our traditional distrust of the state has blocked the way to the simplest and most plausible device for co-ordinate and responsible collective action and we have resorted to organizing private initiative. In many instances this has produced the very best results, but we are now becoming dimly conscious that this loose method has its serious defects.

A natural result has been the multiplication of organizations and an overlapping of efforts. What is worse, there has come about a dissipation of interest and energy because of the multiplicity of these activities. What is still worse is the tendency to relax pressure upon regularly constituted public agencies after the formation of private agencies which we fondly believe will pursue their course to an effective result.

We tend to create commissions to do work which legal public agencies have been permitted to shirk and we have allowed our purpose to be represented by proxy.

A writer in the National Municipal Review calls attention to "the danger in a multitude of organizations," and gives an astonishing list of leagues, societies, associations, organizations, and federations. The use of prominent names to gain prestige for all varieties of plausible civic and social enterprises is very much overdone, and the scattering or complete dissipation of influence is inevitable.

One of the chief evils of our multiplication of reform societies is, however, not discussed by the Review contributor. It is the multiplication of statutes which express the zeal of petty groups of small minorities and not the considered judgment of the mass of the community. Such laws are largely unenforced or unenforceable, and they themselves create an evil far outweighing the good they were intended to accomplish, even if that good were in reality attained.

It is a pity so much civic feeling is dissipated by its diversion into so many petty channels. But it is even a greater pity that the wheel of legislation is turned by so many shallow if violent currents. Laws should express the main stream of community thought and feeling and no more.—Chicago Tribune.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The Country Editor's Lament
Only waiting till the rent man
Has more distant grown;
Only waiting for that shekel
Ere the day of hope has flown;
Till the sound of merry laughter
No longer ripples in our ear;
And we cannot hear you murmur,
"Here's a dollar for the year."

Only waiting until "thirty"
Has been marked upon our take;
Only waiting, watching, praying,
Branded, burning at the stake;
Trying hard to help the fallen,
Wondering where it all will end;
That's the reason why we labor,
Even though our soul may bend.

Only waiting till the money sharks
Have come to claim their own;
Till our carcass lies a-bleaching
On the shores where wrecks are blown;
Then I guess we'll quit our running
Country papers any more,
For our worries will be ended
On that golden sunlit shore.

A certain man was ill and wished to consult a celebrated specialist who was known to a friend of his. He went to his friend and said:

"Look here, how much does that doctor charge? He's pretty expensive, isn't he?"

"You bet he is!" replied the friend. "He charges $15 the first visit, but after that it's only $3."

The next day the man called on the doctor. As soon as the door was opened and the doctor came out he said:

"Well, doc, here I am again."

A Scottish minister, taking his walk early in the morning found one of his parishioners recumbent in a ditch.

"Where hae ye been the nicht, Andrew?" asked the minister.
"Weel, I dinna rightly ken," answered the prostrate one, "whether it was a wedding or a funeral, but whichever it was it was a most extraordinary success."

"Any rattlesnakes around here?"
"What's your business?" asked the boy with the big straw hat.
"What has that to do with it?"
"Well, the last man who looked around here for summer board asked me a lot of questions like that, and when I told him there wasn't any rattlesnakes or mosquitoes or anything, he said he was a naturalist and an' guessed the place wouldn't suit him."

"Look here, waiter. Eighty cents is an outrageous price for a portion of asparagus."

"Yes, sir, but you see, sir, we're putting on a very expensive cabaret show, and—"

"I know all about the cabaret show. I paid for that with the soup."

He—At last we are alone. I've been hoping for this chance.
She—So have I.

He (pleased)—Ah! You know, then, that I wanted to ask you to be my wife.

She—Yes; and I wanted to say "No!" emphatically and get it over with.

Youth (with tie of the stars and stripes)—I sent you some suggestions telling how to make your paper more interesting. Have you carried out any of my ideas?

Editor—Did you meet the office boy with the waste basket as you came upstairs?

Youth—Yes, yes, I did.

Editor—Well, he was carrying out your ideas.

Caller (waiting for hostess)—Did your mother get into the Daughters of the Revolution yet?

A life-long investment

Year 1892: Their new ideal heating investment

Year 1915: Their life-long ideal heating investment

Twenty-four years ago we began to make and sell these now-world-famous heating outfits. Every outfit that we sold then and since is giving ideal heating results, for even conflagrations and quakes do not destroy them. If buildings are remodeled or wrecked, the outfits are used building equipment which do not deteriorate. But, more than that, these outfits repay their own cost again and again through fuel economy, less care-taking, absence of repairs, and because their cleanliness saves soiling and wearing of furniture and decorations.

A No. 6-22-W IDEAL Boiler and 600 ft. of 3/8-in. AMERICAN Radiators costing the owner $245, were used to heat this cottage. At this price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent fitter. This did not include costs of labor, pipe, valves, freight, etc., which vary according to climatic and other conditions.

Property thus outfitted sells quicker at the higher price, or 10% to 15% increased rental; or banker will extend larger loan. Why do you longer run the health risk, the fire danger, the ash and coal-gas spouting annoyances, as well as the expenses and short-life of old-fashioned heating? Twenty-four years of unequalled heating service, and many refinements, as developed in our factories and laboratories in United States, Canada and Europe, and the great volume of our business, enable us to offer IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators at a price no greater than asked for inferior devices. Accept no substitute.

Made in sizes to fit old or new stores, offices, flats, schools, churches, garages, as well as houses and cottages in country or city. No rekindling the fire all season. Same water is used for years. Phone your nearest dealer today and get his estimate. Prices now most attractive and at this season you get the services of the most skilled fitters. Ask for pamphlet (free). "Ideal Heating Investments." Puts you under no obligation to buy.

IDEAL Boilers have large fuel pots in which the air and coal gases thoroughly mix as in a modern gas or oil mantle or burner, thus extracting every bit of the heat from the fuel. Easier to run than a stove.

Another great labor-saver—Stationary Vacuum Cleaner, at $150

You can wonderfully reduce house-labor and highly increase home health and cleanliness by use of ARCO WAND Vacuum Cleaner—sits in basement; works through iron pipe running to all floors; carries all dirt, dust, insects and their eggs, etc., to sealed bucket in machine; cleans carpets, furnishings, walls, ceilings, clothing. Ask also for new "ARCO WAND" catalog (free). Inquiry puts you under no obligation to buy.

Get Rid of Scrofula How? Take S. S. S.

Fifty Years' Use Proves S. S. S.
Will Relieve Stubborn Cases

You have noticed the little festering pimples on the face and body—swelling of the glands—soreness in the legs and arm muscles. These are the symptoms of Scrofula. You may have some of these symptoms, possibly the taint of Scrofula infection. But in either case, it is a dangerous condition. Your blood is infected, impure, and you can never hope to gain perfect health until the impurities are washed from the system. If you feel badly all the time, you must crave health. If you want to feel renewed spirits, the glow of perfect health, bright eyes, clear skin, the knowledge that you are well, you can do so. Cleanse your blood by taking S. S. S. For fifty years it has been the standard blood purifier. It relieves the trouble by renewing the blood, renewing its strength, and stimulating the flow so that the blood regains its lost vitality, and throws off the poison. Even long-standing cases respond. But you must use S. S. S. Take it for all blood infections. Get it at your druggist's today.

COUNTY PIONEER G. G. FRENCH DIES

Englishman Who Came
Here in Early Fifties Passes Away at the Home of Daughter

George G. French, a pioneer of La Crosse county and a native of England, passed away yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Otto E. Krenz, 1530 Avon street. Death was caused by leukemia, following an illness of two months.

Mr. French was born in Southamptonshire, England, May 4, 1849, and came to the United States in the early fifties. He settled in the town of Campbell, and later removed to Onalaska, where he has made his home for twenty-eight years. He was married at Rochester, Minn., in 1880, to Miss Caroline Viney Brown, who, with four children, a brother and sister, survives him. The children are W. A. French, of Farmington; Miss A. C. French and Mrs. Edward H. Nyhus, of St. Paul, and Mrs. Otto E. Krenz of La Crosse. One brother, Robert R. French, of the town of Campbell, and a sister, Mrs. Charles A. Glover, Riversville, California, also survive him.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon from the family home at Onalaska.

LINDSEY WROTH AT HIS ENEMIES

DENVER, Oct. 4.—Judge Ben Lindsey of the juvenile court, who threatened to use a gun on his "character assassins," explained today that he was not a lawless character. The famous "kids' judge" was wroth at his traducers because they were spreading "slandorous lies" about his wife, formerly Miss Henrietta Brevort of Detroit.

The slander was contained in alleged affidavits circulated from hand to hand by Lindsey's enemies. Because the district attorney ruled the affidavits before a special law Lindsey procured from the last legislature made them grounds for prosecution, Lindsey angrily threatened to take the law into his own hands.

The judge today, still wroth, intimated he really wasn't out gunning.

BRINGS BULLET HOLES HERE

Marks of Bandit's Shots Seen in Sides and Roof
of Cars When Train Goes Through

When coast train No. 16 pulled into La Crosse at 3:26 this morning, bullet holes in the roof and sides of the car, and several shattered window panes in the observation car were mute evidence of a daring holdup at Glencoe, Minn., 50 miles west of the Twin Cities.

Two bandits pulled off their act while the train was speeding through Glencoe, and succeeded in relieving the passengers of the observation car of $240 in cash, with the aid of the conductor whom they forced at the point of a gun, to go through the car and collect the spoils. For the delectation of the passengers during the passing-the-hat operations by Conductor McGuire, the gunmen shot holes in the roof and sides of the car, besides breaking several plate windows.

Pocketing their loot, they calmly pulled the cord and fled as the big train slowed down. No arrests have been made.

Train No. 16 is one of the coast line trains, running from Seattle to Chicago. Conductor McGuire's run extended from Moberly to Minneapolis, where Conductor Gerald Frost of Minneapolis took charge on the run from the Mill city to La Crosse.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 4.—Posses were today searching the vicinity for two robbers that early today boarded the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Olympian Limited, at Glencoe, fifty miles from Minneapolis, forced the conductor to pass the hat among the passengers of the rear car, got $240, forced the train to stop before it reached Hopkins and escaped. The robbers were restrained from "working" all the coaches by brakeman John Murphy, who locked the door of the forward car.

After covering the conductor in the rear car the robbers ordered him to pass the hat, but reminded him he would be shot if he let women contribute.

OCTOGENARIAN IS CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Julia Sullivan, aged 80, died of the infirmities of old age at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Farrell, 422 South Twenty-first street, at 1:30 yesterday afternoon. She had been a resident of this city for thirty years.

She is survived by five daughters and three sons, Mrs. John Farrell, La Crosse; Mrs. T. McKenna, Caledonia, Minn.; Mrs. W. E. Rowe, Hall, Montana; Mrs. J. C. Thomas, Brainerd, Minn.; Mrs. G. H. Myer, Dawson City, Alaska, and three sons, Michael and John Sullivan of La Crosse, and Daniel Sullivan of Hartford, Conn.

Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning from St. Mary's Catholic church. Rev. Dr. Robert Condon will officiate and burial will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

to hand by Lindsey's enemies. Because the district attorney ruled the affidavits before a special law Lindsey procured from the last legislature made them grounds for prosecution, Lindsey angrily threatened to take the law into his own hands.

The judge today, still wroth, intimated he really wasn't out gunning.

MUSCULAR BACKACHE

The muscles of the back do the heavy work of the body. When they are over-worked or ill nourished they ache and people who are looking for trouble begin to worry about their kidneys.

Backache may be due to lumbago, which is rheumatism of the muscles of the back, but more backaches are caused by overstrain, overwork and muscle starvation due to thin blood than by anything else.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and sufferers from backache would do well to try this treatment before giving way to worry over a fancied organic disease. Rest and the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will correct most forms of backache, even rheumatic.

For people who work too hard or dance too much and sleep too little, better habits and a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are all that are needed to drive away the pains and aches that are warnings of a coming breakdown. "Building Up the Blood" and "Nervous Disorders" will be sent free, if you are interested, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at the nearest drug store or by mail at 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50.

INTERMEYER WARNS AGAINST DANGERS OF STOCK MARKET

Government Counsel Says
It Is "Worse Than Hopeless" for Average Man to Get Rich on Exchange

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—"Never in the history of the Stock exchange has the public been threatened by so dangerous a pitfall as that which is now wide open for its victims," declared Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the government in the money trust investigation in a letter to the Rev. C. F. Reinsner, replying to a request for expert information.

Untermyer declared that "it is worse than hopeless" for the average man to try to win a fortune in the stock market, and asserted that "in the end they all lose." He characterized the present market activity as a "feverish wave of wild and senseless speculation that has seized the general public, spreading like wildfire from ocean to ocean and for which the public will, as usual, pay dearly in the end."

He urged the Rev. Reinsner to warn the public of its danger, adding: "This latest experience will not be in vain, although the cost will indeed be heavy, if it arouses public sentiment to the point of compelling government regulation of the Stock exchange that will convert it into the great legitimate and responsible security market of the country, which is its high and honorable function."

Untermyer, in his letter to Rev. Reinsner, said:

"As an investor and a lawyer, who for upwards of thirty-five years, has been intimately connected with the affairs of corporations and who is familiar with the machinery of the Stock exchange, I have no hesitation in answering your first question by saying that it is worse than hopeless for the average man to expect to amass a fortune or to make money by dealing in the stock market. My experience is that in the end they all lose. They do not lose all the time, but they do lose all in time. My advice to you is to urge them to keep as far away as possible from the contagion of speculation and especially to warn them against the present fever of speculation and at no time to buy stocks except to the extent to which they can pay for them in full as an investment and then only after a thorough investigation of the merits of the property based on normal conditions."

"Above all things, I advise that in making their investments they keep away from the so-called (and in most instances mis-called) 'war' stocks, most of which are selling at greatly inflated prices, based on temporary conditions which are greatly exaggerated and accelerated by pool manipulations and other forms of artificial activity. In some of the prominent instances the present prices reflect, in my judgment, beside these conditions, a feverish wave of wild and senseless speculation that has seized the general public for which the public will, as usual, pay dearly in the end."

NINE THOUSAND IN HIGHER SCHOOLS

La Crosse Normal Has Increase of Fifty-two in Enrollment for This Semester

Statistics issued by the state board of education show that there are at present 9,449 men and women enrolled in the Wisconsin state schools of higher education, a gain of 525 over last year. Over half of this number are enrolled in the state university, which shows a decrease of fifteen students, accounted for by the falling off of 127 men from the course in agriculture, which boasted of an exceptionally large student body last year. Some of these gains, of course, will be increased much more, perhaps by a hundred students in many instances. These statistics show the comparative enrollments for the first weeks.

Normal Here Gains

The La Crosse normal registered a gain of fifty-two with an enrollment now of 470. These figures place the local normal fifth in registration, one place lower than the position it has held for the last few years. Even so, La Crosse has shown creditable progress; its change in rank is probably due to the fact that the five year course for non-high school graduates, a course equal to the work in the high and normal schools, was never offered in the local school, while one or two other normals, giving this course this year for the last time, are pushing it. Then, too, La Crosse held its position of fourth last year by having only four students more than Stevens Point, a school offering a five year course, which showed the largest gain of the year, taking in 105 students more than previously. Milwaukee was one behind in regard to gains, but retains its ancient lead, having for its enrollment this year 888 students, 328 more than its nearest competitor, River Falls, and more than three times the total number of Platteville students.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD BY HAL SHERIDAN (Written for the United Press.)

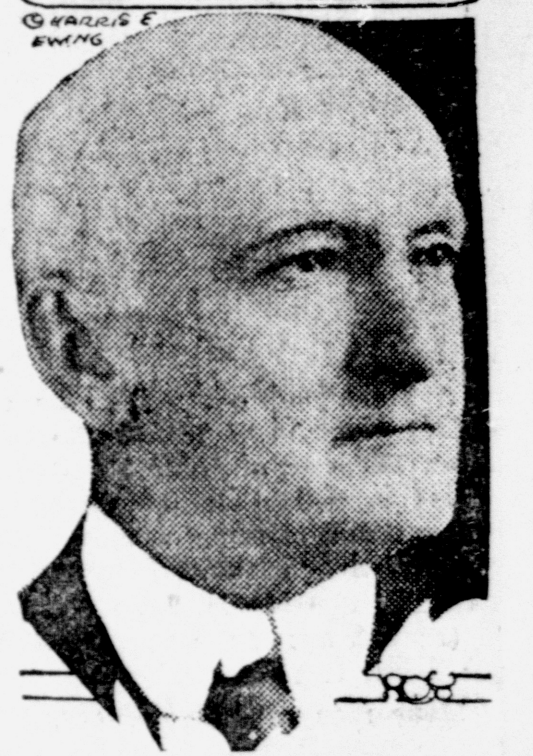

Some ball players try to show up well towards the close of the season, thinking possibly of next year's contract. Charley Herzog doesn't, as attest his three errors yesterday.

Maybe Charley figures if his showing is rotten enough he may escape from Garry Hermann's ballwick.

The Tigers closed the season with the knowledge that they're the gold-darndest second placers in history. It's fairly tough to win 100 games and then lose a pennant. Especially so when over in the National league the Phillies are coping with less than ninety wins.

Chicago staged a miniature world series all her own yesterday and the Whales copped the pennant from the Pitts. The Federals have now finished their second season, about two seasons longer than Ban Johnson gave 'em to hand themselves.

Zoellner String Quartet is an Organization of the First Class

Each year the opening concert of the Normal lecture course strikes a high note. One has to recall the Flonzaley Quartet, Jenny Dufau, David Bispan and Mme. Zeisler, besides other artists of equal note, to realize what the course does for La Crosse in a musical way. Such talent receives adequate support only in towns having musical appreciation, and the managers of the course are counting upon a continuance of popular patronage in engaging the attractions of the coming season.

The opening concert this year will sustain the high standard set by former concerts. The Zoellner String quartet is a company of first quality. In New York it gives annual recitals at Aeolian hall, to which music lovers and musical critics look forward as important events of the season.

The New York Sun has this to say concerning them:

"The Zoellner Quartet has been quietly making a secure place for itself in public favor, both locally and throughout the country, as a dignified and efficient exponent of chamber music. The quartet's usual standards were maintained in the program offered last night. The players gave a good account of themselves in their work and displayed not only zeal and musical training in delivery but a carefully trained skill."

NO LOOKING BACK IN LA CROSSE

New Evidence Constantly Being Published

Since the long succession of La Crosse reports were first published in the local press there has been no looking back. La Crosse evidence continues to pour in, and—better still—those whose reports were first published many years ago, verify all they said in a most hearty and unmistakable way. Read the experience of Mrs. H. Hermanson, 1125 S. Third St. She says:

"I had dizzy and nervous spells and my kidneys were weak. My back ached intensely. I used different remedies, but nothing helped me until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. I was soon rid of the pain and other kidney ailments. Another of my family has used Doan's Kidney Pills for a weak back and kidneys and has been cured. The endorsement I have given Doan's Kidney Pills before, holds good. Whenever I have the least sign of disordered kidneys, I take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and they fix me up all right."

"Whys" of Moves in European War

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The second week of the allies' western offensive began Saturday with both sides seeking a respite. The early intensity of the British and French efforts has died down and the Germans are making only feeble counter attacks. This fact of quick exhaustion strikingly differentiates the present conflict from the battle of Flanders.

An interval of about a year separates the two offensives. During that time trench warfare has been improved and elaborated far beyond its methods when the Germans seized Ostend and attempted to advance on Dunkirk on Calais. During the battle of Flanders, the conflict raged back and forward with continuous intensity. Positions were won and lost repeatedly. It was possible to follow up assaults. The defending troops as well as the offensive armies fought largely in the open, or at least were able to use only hastily constructed trenches but slightly protected by barriers.

The present contests in Artois and Champagne show none of these characteristics. The defending positions have been strengthened and reinforced as the result of continued experiments extending over a year. The lines of barriers in particular are far stronger than used during the battle of Flanders, and above all, immense number of machine guns are now in possession of the defense.

The result has been to demonstrate the inability of conducting present operations along the western front in the same way that the battle of Flanders was fought. There must be frequent pauses under existing conditions while the artillery of the offensive army tries to uproot new obstacles planted by the enemy. Continuous attacking has been impossible. A series of assaults is the only method of procedure not suicidal, and this means the defending troops are given periods of rest.

The week's fighting in Artois and Champagne has demonstrated, in fact, that siege warfare is the only method open to the allies. A serious breach must be made in the enemy's lines by the besiegers before any major advantage can be secured. Such a procedure is now being shown to be enormously difficult, because the enemy has many parallel defenses, all of which must be captured before the breach is completed.

PIEPER AND KIRCHER WIN

Pieper, handicapped at 30 4-6, on Saturday defeated Nelson 6-4 and 4-3 in the handicap tournament of the La Crosse Tennis club. Kircher, handicapped at 2-6, defeated Dvorak 4-6, 6-4 and 8-6.

Educational Criticism.

A deputation waited on the president of the British board of education some time ago to insist upon this point: "That the present system of education tended to fit the child more for the life of a clerk, and to unfit him for rural and agricultural life." And it might have been added that not only does it fit him for the life of a clerk, but it unfits him for getting beyond that. It has put him through a system that has kept back all tendency to develop any initiative of his own.—Montreal Herald.

Protect the Birds.

The bird life of the country is important to its welfare. It is well that knowledge of this fact is being scattered broadcast, as many are unacquainted with the great work of conservation which the birds perform in the natural order in saving great natural wealth. Their indiscriminate slaughter is one of the saddest instances of wanton waste which the ignorance of men, in depleting their natural resources, can furnish. For this reason the present crusade in favor of bird protection ought to engage general and thoughtful attention.

Little Time to Waste.

Life is short, and we never have too much time for gladdening the hearts of those who are traveling the dark journey with us. Oh, be swift to love, make haste to be kind!—Amiel.

OPEN FORUM GETS UNDER WAY WITH ADDRESS BY ESCH

Short Ballot Is Congressman's Topic at Universalist Church; Benezet on War Next

The winter season of the Open Forum started at St. Paul's Universalist church yesterday afternoon with a discussion of the short ballot by Congressman John J. Esch. Owing to the weather and the fact that the opening was not well advertised the attendance was not large, but the meeting was interesting and profitable.

Perhaps the most important fact concerning the present situation which creates a demand for the short ballot was shown to be the falling off of interest in elections, Mr. Esch said.

"Although the population of this state has increased more than a million in the last thirty years, the number of votes cast as shown by election returns has increased but little, if any, in that time," said Mr. Esch. "Considering the fact that, owing to the large number of names on the present ballot, it is impossible for more than a small part of those who do vote to know the qualifications of those for whom they vote, it can be seen at a glance that the situation needs correction."

The theory of the short ballot promoters is that the ballot should be shortened by extending the power of appointment of the Governor and other executive officers until the people would only be called on to vote for such executive officers and members of law making bodies, such officers to fill the other necessary offices by appointment.

Superintendent of Schools L. P. Benezet will talk to the Open Forum next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock on "History and Economic Conditions in Europe Which Lead Up to the Present European War." Mr. Benezet's lecture will be strictly neutral and of great value and interest. Mr. Benezet is especially well prepared to speak on this subject as he has recently gathered a large amount of historic data, concerning the Balkans, Poland and other nations involved.

MEXICANS TRY TO AMBUSH CAVALRY

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Oct. 4.—An attempt to ambush an American cavalry patrol near Laferia resulted in a running fight between the soldiers and Mexican bandits, it was reported here today. There were no casualties.

Lieutenant John A. Considine of Seattle, Wash., and three men of the Sixth cavalry were riding near the river when they detected some Mexicans in the brush near the roadside several rods ahead. The soldiers dismounted and advanced on the Mexicans, firing as they ran. The bandits, who numbered five, took to the brush. Several shots were exchanged but the Mexicans escaped.

Benefactor of Mankind.

It may be finally said of John Harrison, English inventor, that by the invention of his chronometer—the ever-sleepless and ever-trusty friend of the mariner—he conferred an incalculable benefit on science and navigation, and established his claim to be regarded as one of the greatest benefactors of mankind.

KING OF BULGARIA INSPECTS ARMIES PREPARATORY TO DECLARATION OF WAR

King Ferdinand of Bulgaria reviewing his troops.

With full mobilization an established fact in Bulgaria, and repeated reports that 250,000 Bulgarian troops are massed on the Serbian frontier, King Ferdinand is ready to declare war. "The entente is not sure of winning," the Bulgarian king recently declared. "Nothing indicates at this moment that such will be the case. If Bulgaria's chances of obtaining Macedonia depended thereon, they may never be realized. My government is following a policy which is positive in action and certain of good results."

GOES BACK TO MASON CITY

Denies Crimes and Waives Extradition; Brother and Friend Now in Pen

Winnifred Kehr, 16 years old, wanted in Mason City, Iowa, for complicity in the theft of six automobiles, was arrested early yesterday morning in his room at Fourth and Division streets by Sheriff George J. Ritter. Kehr is a nephew of Fred Kehr, Tenth and Vine streets.

The boy today waived extradition proceedings, denying any knowledge of the theft of the cars, and was taken to the Iowa city by Sheriff Marsh of Mason City. He has been here several weeks working as an electrician.

Mason City authorities, according to Sheriff Marsh, believe that with the arrest of Kehr they will be able to get at the bottom of a long string of automobile thefts, for which F. V. Kehr, a brother of the boy, and Clarence Hunt, both of Mason City, are now serving ten years in the Iowa state penitentiary. They were taken near Preston, Minn.

It is maintained that Kehr was the "expert driver" of the gang of auto thieves. Machines were stolen on the principal street corners of Mason City, and for a time the thefts were a deep mystery.

paintings by Wisconsin artists which has been prominently mentioned as a feature of the convention, there will be a section devoted to the work of the Janesville school for the blind and a tuberculosis exhibit prepared by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association in co-operation with the university extension department.
Other exhibits to be here for the convention include collections of work from the deaf school at Dela-

the Sparta school for dependent children and the Tomah Indian school.

Not the least notable of the exhibits will be that of the Janesville school. It will show the accomplishments of the sightless students in manual training, domestic science, painting, drawing and sewing.
The exhibit of the state school is a part of an offering which is winning commendation at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco, not only because the work has been completed without optical aid, but because of its exceptional quality. Miss Ada Turner, field worker for the school, will be here with the exhibit, and give short talks on the students and the school.

Mrs. Bert Nelson, chairman of the committee on exhibits, said today that the art collection is the first of

GENERAL KING TO TALK ON DEFENSE HERE THIS WEEK

Inspector General of State Guard and Famous Soldier Will Speak in City Friday

General Charles King, Milwaukee, inspector-general of the Wisconsin
National Guard, world-famous writer and war campaigner, will speak on "National Defense" at the La Crosse theater Friday night. General King is being brought to La Crosse by companies M and B of the local millitia. The theater will be free to the public.

General King's topic is probably the most universal theme of conversation in the land just now, and it is conceded that he is one of the ablest men in the United States to give an exposition of the sort of defense this country could oppose to invasion by a foreign power.
He is a powerful speaker and knows his subject through a close acquaintance with army and navy officials at Washington. He had charge of a detachment of troops in the Spanish-American war and was engaged in several notable Indian scrimmages in pioneer days in the west. The greater part of his life has been devoted to martial activities, and he has written a score or more of popular books dealing upon the subject.

Postmaster General Burleson has authorized more than 500 automobile rural routes, 320 of which are in operation. These routes are almost twice as long as the present ones, but carry a salary of $1,800.

Costley Back From Visit To Home Of His Boyhood Days

Displaying a piece of fossilized sandstone picked up on the Steuben county farm in New York state where he was born,
John Costley, La Crosse county registrar in probate, is back at his desk in the court house this morning feeling ten years younger for his visit to the scene of his boyhood.

Costley accompanied his sister, Mrs. Frank Sacia, Galesville, on the trip east. They were gone almost a month. From La Crosse they went to Chic-go. They visited Lake Erie points, Niagara Falls, and several places in New York and Pennsylvania.

The piece of stone which
"John" held in his hand as his friends greeted him today bore the prints of seashells and fishes' heads and tails.

"I probably shied this at some contrary cow in my younger days," said Costley, "and never paid any attention to it."

war office reported. "Three Belgian civilians were victims of this bombardment."

"North of Loos our troops continue to make headway. West of Govanvich the French obtained a firm foothold in a trench on a hill, but south of Givenchy we repulsed the French attacks. Northeast of Neuville our counter attacks recaptured 40 yards of trenches."

"Northwest of Ville-Sur-Tourbe and northwest of Massiges (eastern Champagne) French attacks broke down under our concentrated fire."

ALL LOCAL FOLKS IN NEW ORLEANS ARE THOUGHT SAFE

Relatives and friends of the Crosse people who were in New Orleans during the death-dealing hurricane of Wednesday, have lost anxiety concerning their safety following report of the catastrophe printed in Saturday night's Tribune.

Mrs. J. M. Byrne, mother of John Byrne, telegraph operator for the Western Union Telegraph company, received a telegram late yesterday afternoon saying that he was safe, while relatives of both Arthur Jacobs and John Kohn, have not heard from him. Neither of the two families feel any apprehension regarding their safety, however.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward E. Evans have left New Orleans for San Francisco and Los Angeles to visit relatives.

NAVY STARTS WAR GAME AT NORFOLK

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 4.—Scenes of Spanish war days were repeated here today with the opening of the navy's war game. The "attack" upon the United States coast begins at eight tonight. A score of dreadnoughts and smaller craft were to sail today to the "battle ground."
Some of the fleet has already taken station along the coast.

Hampton Roads was a scene of great activity today. The "Red" or battle fleet, is already hovering somewhere along the coast ready to strike. The defensive fleet, the last line of which sails before midnight, will soon be on guard.

Under the rules, the "blue" defending forces have until midnight to assume positions. After that hour the invaders will be free to strike any part of the coast if they are able.

STEEL HEAD TRANSFERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Alva C. Din-key, president of the Carnegie Steel company, has resigned to become president of the Midvale Steel company, it was announced this afternoon. William E. Corey whose place Dinkey will take, will become chairman of the board of directors of the Midvale Steel company. Chairman
E. H. Gary of the U. S. Steel directorate, said Dinkey's successor will be named within a short time.

REBATING IS CHARGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railway was charged with rebating in an indictment returned here today by a federal jury on shipments of coal from Pennsylvania for delivery in New York. The railway is charged with having failed to collect demurrage charges on 20 canal boats owned by the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Coal company.

POEM LIBERATES

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—James Whitcomb Riley, Hoosier poet, was indirectly the means of keeping Bertrand O'Brien out of jail today.
O'Brien was haled before Magistrate House for begging.

"I'm an actor, out of luck," said O'Brien, "and besides I thought I knew the man. Let me prove I'm no faker. What poem do you want to hear?"

The court suggested Riley's "That Old Sweetheart of Mine," and O-
'Brien recited it with such feeling that the court not only liberated him but took up a purse.

MADDOO FOR SUFFRAGE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Evidence of the president's suffrage position accumulated today.
It became known Secretary of the Treasury Maddoo was ready to announce himself in favor of woman suffrage.

LOAN REALITY AND AFFAIR IS CLOSED

Books of Syndicate to Close Tomorrow Following Completion of Negotiations

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The $500-
000,000 loan to England and France is now guaranteed and the books of the syndicate handling the huge financial project will be closed tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

This announcement was made from the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co.
today.

Closing of the syndicate books does not mean that loan bonds can no longer be obtained. The sale to the public is only about to start. But after tomorrow applications from banks and investors for loan subscriptions at 96—the syndicate price —will not be received. Enough banks and big investors have applied for blocks of the loan to assure that it will be entirely taken up.

PETROGRAD WANTS TEUTON OFFICERS SENT FROM COUNTRY

The exact location of the troop landing was withheld.

Four railways have been taken over by the government to facilitate the movement of troops into Macedonia.

Sofia Denies Rumors
SOFIA, Oct. 4.—(Delayed.)—The Bulgarian News agency today announced that it has been authorized by the government to deny the following rumors:

That German officers have arrived in Bulgaria to participate in the administration of the railways and the command of the army.

That Premier Radoslawoff has declared Bulgaria was to receive from Germany $10,000,000 a month after she entered the war.

That there have been numerous arrests of political leaders in Bulgaria because they opposed Bulgaria's present course, and that there have been street disturbances.

Reports in the foreign press that the cabinet is not fully supported by the people.

Fleet Off Varna

SALONIKA, Oct. 4.—The powerful Russian squadrons have appeared off the Bulgarian Black sea port of Varna, according to dispatches received here today.

Varna is the principal port on the Black sea between Kustendje and the Bosphorus. It has important railway connections and it has been predicted that Russian transports would land troops near this point of Russia decided on an invasion of Bulgaria.

WHALES CHALLENGE O. B. FORCES FOR A TITLE SERIES

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Charles Weeg-ham, president and owner of the Chicago Whales, champions of the Federal Baseball league, today formally challenged the winner of the coming Boston Red Sox-Philadelphia Nationals series. If the challenge is not accepted Weegham will claim the world's championship for his club.

SURPRISE GIVEN FOR REV. WEIN

Rev. A. B. Wein, formerly a resident of this city, but now located at Chisholm, Minn., was pleasantly surprised by a party of friends at the home of his brother, M. Wein, 724
La Crosse street, Saturday evening.
Rev. Wein was presented with a gold-headed cane by those present. The evening was enjoyably spent in music and dancing. Several readings were also given. Refreshments were served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. M.
Wein and Alta and Philip Wein, Mr.
and Mrs. T. Tubias, Anna, Ida, Oscar and David Tubias, Mr. and Mrs. L.
Eppstein and family, Mr. and Mrs. M.
Lavenstein and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. Wein and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. Harrison and family, Mr.
Goodman of Sheboygan, and Mr. Gordon of Chicago.

GIRL SENTENCED FOR THEFT

Martha Tesley, 19 year old servant girl, was sentenced to pay a fine of $15 and costs or suffer imprisonment for twenty days today for taking two rings and several articles of wearing apparel from her employer, Mrs. Charles Whiting, 117 North Tenth street. The theft, the police said, took place two months ago, but legal action was withheld in order to give the girl a chance to return the stolen articles.

COTTON SKYROCKETS

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Cotton futures advanced more than $3.50 a bale today following the publication of an unfavorable crop report by the government. It was one of the greatest price jumps in the memory of traders on the Cotton exchange.
Shortly before the close January cotton was up 72 points at 12.85 cents a pound. The price gain was approximately $3.60 a bale.

WAR LOAN WILL BE TOPIC AT FIRST FRANKLIN DEBATE

The first of the regular weekly meetings of the Franklin club will be held Thursday night, October 8, when the question "Resolved, that the people of the United States should disapprove of war loans to the belligerent nations of Europe," argued affirmatively by R. V. Ahl-
strom, Dr. A. R. Kemper and Russell
Webb. They will be opposed by H.
W. Robinson, W. J. McLaughlin and Paul W. Mahoney.

The session will be the first one after the usual summer vacation.
The general public is invited to attend the debate. The meetings are held at Fjelstad's hall every Thursday.

The officers for the coming year are: President, Harry Robinson; vice president, Leland Mahoney; secretary, Joseph G. Dubraks; treasurer,
J. F. Saltz; regent, H. G. Hayden.

PEACOCK TO GIVE CONVENTION SERMON

Rev. W. J. Peacock, pastor of the First Baptist church, will deliver the annual sermon before the Pastors' union at the annual state convention of Baptists, to be held this year at Green Bay from October 11 to 14.
He has chosen for his address the title "A Message in the Vernacular," and will deliver it at the Monday evening session.

Rev. Peacock will be the only delegate from La Crosse, it is thought.
He is commissioned to invite the convention of 1916 to this city. It is highly probable that he will land the gathering for several reasons, chief of which are that the next convention goes to the western part of the state because of its eastern meeting place the logical place to hold the sessions owing to its favorable location for delegates to the convention and its railroad facilities. Rev. Peacock does not expect opposition winning the convention.

ALLEGED DYNAMITER IS PUT ON TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 4.—M.
A. Schmidt, alleged accomplice of J.
B. McNamara in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building which cost twenty lives, went to trial in Judge Frank R. Willis' court here today on a charge of murder.

David Caplan, also charged with murder in the same connection, will be tried after the Schmidt case is disposed of.

Special Prosecutor Noel of Indianapolis, who figured in the trial of the alleged dynamiters there, opened the fight for the state today. He was assisted by District Attorney Woolwine and Deputy District Attorneys Van Cott and Keyes.

From this day on, Oct. 4, 1915, I am not responsible for any debts contracted by my wife, Robert Braun, Jr.

BUILDING PROGRAM OF BIG DIMENSIONS LOOKED FORWARD TO

Administration Confident
Congress Will Approropriate Half Billion for Defense

GOVERNMENT JOBS SUCCEED

Success of Building of Warships Expected to Advance That Plan Be Exclusive

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—A program of government building, excelling anything in American history, will follow the half billion dollar appropriation which the administration expects congress to vote at the coming session for rehabilitation of the army and navy. This information came today from the highest sources.

Consideration of the defense program has always heretofore evoked a long-drawn out discussion in congress over the building of warships by private firms, over the purchase of powder and ammunition from corporations and the relative merits of supplies furnished by contract or manufactured by the government perspecifications. Advocates of government manufacture of ammunition have solidified a following, however, and at this session are expected to make a formidable fight for government powder manufacturing plants.
The success which has attended the building of warships at navy yards is expected to advance the plan of the government manufacture of its war vessels.

The fact that American manufacturers of war supplies are now working overtime on contracts for foreign governments is also a determining factor.

The United Press learns from an authoritative source that one of the impelling reasons for Secretary Daniels' appointment of an advisory board was the desire to have a body of experts at hand for consultation on this plan for governmental building.

Success Assured

President Wilson, it is known, has been assured by congressional leaders that a $500,000,000 program of defense rehabilitation will "go through" congress—provided that program takes a new course. The group of congressmen who have heretofore fought defense bills because of the huge profits they gave to the armor plate and powder "trust" would give full support to a plan for government plants for the manufacture of armor and powder. Letting of contracts to either of these "trusts" or the big ship building companies for a huge naval building program would line the group up with the "little navy" advocates and seriously endanger the naval program.

One further factor which, it is said, has led the president and Secretary Garrison and Daniels to agree on a government building program is the fact that the United States in this event need not turn over secrets of construction to private firms.

Exactly how the defense appropriation shall be divided—how many submarines, battle cruisers, destroyers, etc., shall be constructed in the navy; how many field guns, of what nature, etc., shall be built for the army—is something over which Daniels, Garrison and the president are working now. But it is authoritatively learned that no matter how the administration determines to spend the money, a large part of it will be for supplies and implements of war made by government plants.

Naval Program Discussed
The financing of a naval preparedness program was discussed today at a White house conference between the president, Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Chairman Padgett of the house naval committee.

Next Wednesday the new naval advisory board on which Thomas A. Edison is chairman, will meet with the president at his request, it was announced.

CLOTHIERS TAKE FIRST GAME FROM NELSONS BY SCORE OF TWO TO ONE

FITZKI HAS EDGE OVER SICKLES IN OPENING CONTEST

Bartel Men Land on Sickles for Win in First. Rain Spoils Nelson's Chances in Afterpiece

The Clothiers yesterday demonstrated their grounds for claiming a chance for the city title by defeating the Nelsons at League park 2 to 1. In the first game of a scheduled double header, the beginning of a three game series to decide without question city honors. The Nelsons had a score of 2 to 0 at the end of the fourth inning in the afterpiece when the game was called on account of rain. Bell for the Clothiers and King for the Nelsons were throwing. The teams will clash in a double header at League park a week from Sunday. Fitzki had an edge over Sickles. He allowed but three hits, all singles, while Sickles was touched for five singles, one a double by Weigert. He whiffed seven to Sickles' four. The Clothiers played errorless ball. The Clothiers won the game in the fourth. Horne was put at the opening of that frame. Weigert grounded to Roeder, who made a bad peg to Woll. Woll dropped the ball and Tanke singled, sending Weigert to third. Wais fanned and Tanke took second. Eugene Fuchs then hit a hot one through third and Weigert and Tanke scored. Falk flied to Beranek. The Nelsons lost in the fourth on Thompson's hit, Freng's sacrifice and Kabat's single.

WHALES WIN FLAG BY BEATING EDDIE KONETCHY'S TEAM

Weeghman's Men Cop Second Game of Twin Bill from Rebels and Are Now Champions

Rebels, 5-0; Whales, 4-3.
CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Thirty-four thousand fans saw Weeghman's Whales put Chicago back into the ranks of champions on Saturday after an absence of five years, when the north siders defeated the Pittsburgh Rebels 3 to 0 in the second game of the double header that wound up the Federal league season. Leading the race when the contests began, the Whales were passed by the visitors with whom they had been battling neck and neck for several weeks, because the Rebels made a gallant uphill fight and won the first game, 5 to 4, in the eleventh inning. The winning run was made on Wickland's single.
Tinker's men drove Knetzer from the mound in the sixth inning of the afterpiece and when Bailey continued to blank the visitors, the Whales were proclaimed the pennant winners by the narrow margin of half a game. Bailey held the Rebels to two singles and did not let a man get past first base. The Whales won the game and pennant in the sixth inning on Doolan's single, doubles by Flack and Zwelling, and singles by Wilson and Pechous. The game was called at the end of the first half of the seventh inning on account of darkness.

WISCONSIN TRIMS APPLETONIANS IN OPENING CONTEST

Juneau Springs Surprise and Team Runs Up Total of Eighty-two Points

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 4.—Coach Juneau's men Saturday demonstrated that they are not altogether a bunch of weaklings by swamping Lawrence under a score of 82 to 0, the biggest score made by Wisconsin in years. The Badgers' goal was never in danger and the majority of the team shared scoring honors. The showing of the team was probably the best since 1912, when Wisconsin copped the Big Nine championship. Visions of another title are afloat in Madison.

Five minutes after the kickoff by Lawrence, Byers made a dash around the left end for the first score, and Kreuz followed him four minutes later with a plunge through guard, which, with the two kicks by Simpson, made the score at the end of the first quarter, Wisconsin, 14; Lawrence, 0.

In the second quarter the Badgers marched down the field for four touchdowns, Capt Buck making two of them by picking up Lawrence fumbles and carrying them over the goal. Meyers made a thirty-five yard gain by receiving a difficult forward pass and making a beautiful run for touchdown.

The second half was as easy. Juneau's second and third teams in the last quarter brought the score up to 82 points.
Stavrum of La Crosse, who started the game at left end, was replaced by Cramer and Gunderson, also of La Crosse, succeeded Hancock at left guard. Other substitutions were numerous. The lineup follows:
Wisconsin—Left end, Cramer. Stavrum; left tackle, Buck, Filzer, Sell; left guard, Hancock, Gunderson; center, Fottinger; right guard, Gardner, Landry; right tackle, Possenger, Koch; right end, Rau, Meyer; quarter, Simpson, Taylor; left half, Byers, McCrory, Cummings; right half, Smith, Weimar, Payton; fullback, Kreuz, Galvin, Berg.

Lawrence—Thompson, left end; Wilkinson, left tackle; Owen, left guard; Bergan, center; Wallace, right guard; Snyder, right tackle; Huppe, right end; Ritte, quarter; Elliott, left half; Stumpf, right half; Curry, full.
Score by periods:
Wisconsin . . . 14 34 20 14—82
Lawrence . . . 0 0 0 0—0
Referee—Hegel. Umpire—Kittelman. Head linesman—Carter. Time of periods—15 minutes.
Wisconsin scoring: Touchdowns—Byers, 2; Kreuz, 2; Beck, 2; E. Simpson, Meyer, Smith, Weimar, McCrory, Hancock. Goals from touchdown—Simpson, 7; Cummings, 1; Taylor, 2.

BOWLING SEASON OPENS TOMORROW

Official opening of the bowling in La Crosse is scheduled for tomorrow night, when play starts in the handicap league, organized to play at the Malloy alleys.

"WALLIE" REGET BACK IN SCHOOL
"Wallie" Reget, captain and quarterback of the high school team, was back at school today, using crutches to keep weight off his left foot, still in bad condition from the case of blood poisoning. He will be able to get out for practice by the end of the week, it is thought.

SLIPPERY FIELD WORKS AGAINST LIGHT VISITORS

Tomah Unable to Gain Consistently with Their Open Field Work; Reget Sees Game

La Crosse got away to a flying start in the state championship race Saturday with a pretty 41 to 0 victory over their old rivals, Tomah. Although in the hospital in the morning, Captain Reget, suffering from an attack of blood poisoning, could not be held in, and he was on the side-lines. Zeisler took his place at quarter and played a good, heady game.
The turf on the new field was wet and slippery and Tomah, with a very light team, worked under a big handicap. Their main offense was in long line shifts and speedy end runs. The dodging tactics necessary for such running could not be executed on the wet field and they were nailed for big losses. On a dry day this open field game might have caused trouble. The La Crosse line was too solid and heavy for any consistent success at bucking the line, so Tomah's only resort was the forward pass. This department of the game was also a failure, three of La Crosse's touchdowns resulting from intercepted passes.

Denomie Hurt
La Crosse, with a heavy team and a line plunger like Spettel, had little difficulty. Outplayed and outgeneral-ed the visitors still put up a game fight and held Horne's battering ram scoreless the last quarter. Denomie, Tomah's Indian end, sustained a fractured rib, and Moran, the quarter, a badly bruised shoulder.

The Game
La Crosse kicked off and tackled La Motte behind the goal line for a safety. Tomah punted from the twenty-yard line and four minutes after play had commenced Bott went over for the first touchdown. Layman kicked goal.
Hackner intercepted a pass and made a twenty yard gain. Blatter worked the tackle over play for a touchdown. Layman misses goal. The third touchdown also resulted from Tomah's poor punting. Bunge intercepted a pass going over. Layman kicked goal.
The second quarter saw Kulcynski pull another Tomah pass out of the air and sprint forty yards to the goal posts. Layman missed goal. Tomah abandoned the passing game and kicked whenever possible.
Blatter and Zeisler each made a touchdown in the third quarter after some straight football. Layman made the first and missed the last goal, leaving the final score 41 to 0.

MODERN DANCES RAGE AT 'FRISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 4.—Literally, everybody's doing it. San Francisco, where the "modern dance" had originated, has gone stiff, stark, staring mad over it. It is no longer a fad; it is an institution.

From the cradle to the grave—at least as far as victims' ages are concerned—the modern dance has seized the exposition city. In every place, where old and young congregate to while away pleasant hours, the one step, tango, fox trot, and so on ad infinitum, are in full, wide-open swing.

The exposition nightly has its dance-mad throngs. Your native son—or daughter—heads at once for the dance hall; the wonders of the exposition are an old story to the native; naught interests or amuses him but the tango parlors.

Down town, in the lobster palaces it is the same.

One night, on the same dance floor a little miss—not a minute older than 4 years—tripped the one step gleefully with her mother, while close at hand a white-haired man, perhaps 65 or 70, with his spouse, seemed to be having the time of his gay second youth doing the same thing.

The baby couldn't make her feet behave. When the strains of the orchestra died away, she insisted on continuing, and when her mother made her way back to her dinner the tot paraded to the center of the floor and staged a solo dance that made some of the older folks envious. She

CLUBWOMEN TO HEAR OF STATE PLAQUE CAMPAIGN

Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association Exhibit Will Make Its Debut
Here

FIELD WORKERS WILL SPEAK

Public Health Sectional Meeting Will Be Addressed by Misses Downes and Salisbury

Tuberculosis and the Wisconsin war against it will be brought prominently to the notice of the clubwomen of the state when they meet in convention here this week. The Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association will send two of its field-workers here to address the clubwomen, and a health exhibit prepared by the association in co-operation with the extension department of the state university will be shown during the three days of the gathering.

Exhibit to Make Debut Here
The tuberculosis exhibit which is to be shown all over the state, will make its debut at the convention here. It will be a big feature of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis convention at Milwaukee in November, and between the club convention here and the Milwaukee assembly will appear at a number of other gatherings. It is to be shown at the annual meetings of the Northwestern Teachers' association and the State Librarians' association at Eau Claire on October 21st, 22nd and 23rd. It is also to be featured at the State Teachers' convention in Milwaukee the first week in November, and will be seen in slide form at the meeting of the States Charities and Corrections at Wausau, October 19th, 20th and 21st.

Field Workers to Speak
The field workers of the state association organized against the white plague who will speak to the clubwomen are Miss Maynard Downes and Miss Margaret Salisbury. They will speak Thursday afternoon to the sectional meeting of the Public Health committee, of which Mrs. D. G. Owen of Milwaukee, is chairman. The meeting will be held, as will the rest of the sectional meetings in the Congregational church.

BODY THOUGHT THAT OF TEXAN

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 4.—The identification of an aged man, battered by the elements and torn by wild animals, whose remains are with the authorities at Yampa, Col., today, depended upon telegraphed clues awaited from Mrs. Thornton R. Sampson of Austin, Texas. The body bears some resemblance to her husband, professor in the Texas Presbyterian Theological seminary, who was lost in the Estes Park section of the Rock Mountains a month ago.

was not on exhibition; the dance was in her blood, tingling for expression, like the sparkle of wine. To her, the modern dance was the expression of sheer joy of living.

Test of the Paretic.
On account of his muscular weakness the handwriting of the paretic will show a characteristic tremor. His defective memory may be exhibited by asking him to write down some foolish sentence like "The Fourth of July comes on October 15 of this year," and he loses track of the word-succession after putting down two or three. The neurasthenic could remember this much.

DON'T BE BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK OR CONSTIPATED

Enjoy life; Live your liver and bowels tonight and feel great.

Wake up with head clear, stomach sweet, breath
right, cold gone.

Take one or two Cascarets tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. Wake up feeling grand, your head will be clear, your tongue clean, breath sweet, stomach regulated and your liver and thirty feet of bowels active. Get a box at any drug store now and get straightened up by morning. Stop the headache, biliousness, bad colds and bad days. Feel fit and ready for work or play. Cascarets do not gripe, sicken or inconvenience you the next day like salts, pills or calomel. They're fine! Mothers should give a whole Cascaret anytime to cross, sick, bilious or feverish children because it will act thoroughly and can not injure.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

WOMEN OF BRITAIN GLAD TO GIVE AID

American Girls Fail to See
How English Sisters Can Tolerate the "War
Brides" System

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Sept. 12.—(By mail.)—The "war brides" question is loaded with human interest.

Two weeks ago, in the United States, I heard American girls giving their opinion of the "war brides" system. Since then I've talked to English girls about it.

"It's simply terrible," said one American girl, "if I understand it right. Is it true that young English officers come home from the front, get married, stay home only six or seven days and then go back to the front?"

"Yes, that's the 'war brides' system."

"It's awful," repeated the New York girl. "I don't see how the English girls stand it."

"What makes it seem awful to an American girl?"

"Well, in the first place, here's a girl, unmarried and perhaps unengaged, during all the months that she ought to have peace of mind? It isn't fair to the baby who is coming. The mother has two terrible things to worry about, it seems to me. One is whether her husband will live. The other is whether the baby will be weakened and made inferior because of the fact that she is worrying. And, between these two worries, it seems to me that an English 'war bride' would be insane."

"All the girls I know think the 'war bride' system is full of horrors."

That's the American girl's side of it. Last night an English girl, who has brothers at the front, listened to what the American girl had told me.

There was a queer little smile on her face, as she began to grasp her American sister's viewpoint. Then she said:

"They don't understand. They never would unless they come to England or unless their own country was in war."

"In the first place an English girl is proud to do something for England, no matter how small. If her man is to die, she's proud of having given him."

"But she'd rather give England her husband than her sweetheart. And the baby is part of him; if he must go, there's the baby. England has lost one man, but she has put another man or woman in his place; she has filled the gap in the fighting line. You know, English girls find something awful thrilling in that idea."

"I love what the Scotch newspapers are doing. Over their birth columns they put the headline, 'More soldiers for England.' You see an American girl can't understand how we feel because she doesn't understand what change war can make in a woman. You wait and see, you'll find that these babies of the 'war brides' will be the finest babies England ever had."

"Did you try to tell your American girl friends how English girls feel about it?" she asked.

"I did, and they said that a man would always take the wrong side of the question."

"Of course they said that. They couldn't understand. But English women think just as English men do about it, now. The war has changed the women. And American girls would feel just exactly as we do if they knew as much about war, as we do. In peace times women think of themselves too much. But war takes all the selfishness away."

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—In nearly all respects today's stock market was a duplicate of yesterday's. Trading was again of abnormal magnitude with prices forced alternately up and down by the conflicting forces of Wall street liquidation and outside speculative buying. When one part of the market showed signs of yielding, prices in another quarter would be rapidly advanced. The market closed, as it opened, in great confusion.

It is never easy to predict the immediate fortunes of a stock market in which speculation has run wild. Especially at times when bank reserves are overflowing and the precautionary signals of a tightening money market are, therefore, lacking

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Rains which delayed spring wheat movements in the northwest caused higher prices today. Opening prices showed over Sunday advances of 3/4c and 1/4c. Later in the day, the buying increased and prices advanced 3/4c and 1/4c above the opening to 97 1/4 and 98 1/4c.

Fear of front, caused bulges at the opening in corn today. Prices started up 1/2 and 1/4c compared with Saturday's close. Later, there was some selling on the advance and prices dropped back 3/4c and 1/4c below the opening to 53 1/2 and 55 1/2c.

After an early recession oats sold up later on the wheat strength and fair buying.

Provisions were sharply higher on heavy buying.
